STATEMENT FROM CAROLINA ATHLETICS

CHAPEL HILL – The University of North Carolina is committed to the well-being of our student-athletes and to ensuring that they have the best experience possible in and outside of competition. Due to issues raised by student-athletes and others, the University has initiated a review of our women's basketball program.

The Charlotte-based firm Parker Poe Adams & Bernstein will conduct the review and assess the culture of the women's basketball program and the experience of our student-athletes. The women's basketball coaching staff has been placed on paid administrative leave while the review takes place.

While we do not know the exact timetable, the review will be thorough and prompt.

We will have no further comment until the review is complete.
